

PART I

Introduction	7
Who this book is for	7
What this book is not	7
Why this book is necessary	7
Who am I?	8
Your Expectations	9
What is your ultimate goal?	9
Challenging yet rewarding	10
Make a commitment	12
Your Training	12
You need a mentor and a coach	12
How to find a great piano teacher	12
Do not rely only on your teacher	17
Tools of the Trade	18
Choosing a piano	18
Piano placement	20
Piano tuning	21
Additional tools	22
Things to do now	24
Memorize the piano keys now	24
Memorize the notes now	25
Memorize the intervals now	26
Make yourself comfortable	27
Correct posture	27

PART II

Practicing	30
About piano practice	30
Practice every day	31
What you need to do	33
The importance of 3 x 3 x 3	36
Three steps for successful practice	37
Work in order of importance	39
It is all about the feel	40
How you will know when you have got it	41
Drill then distract	42
Think less	43
Hand shapes and positions	44
Moving through your piece	46
Pedal tips	47
Do not put off until later	49
Record one hand and play along with the other	50
Use your instrument's MIDI capabilities	51
A form of meditation	51
Master two against three	52
Be mindful when practicing	52
How to figure out complex rhythms	53
Reading Music	54
Learn to read music	54
Do not memorize your music yet	55
How we really read music	57
Mark your music	58
Pay attention to all markings	59
Do not look at your hands	60
Are you a fast reader?	61
Interpretation	62
The four elements of a great performance	62

Become a master of timing	62
Create big contrast	63
What your audience wants to hear	64
Make your melodies beautiful by shaping them	65
Technique & Fingering	66
Master your scales	66
The most important tool for any musician	68
Fingering	70
Curve your fingers	71
Avoid thumbs on black notes	72
Cut your nails	72
Avoid hand and finger exercises	73
Shake it out	73
Weight vs. strength	74
Leaning for balance	74
Playing octaves smoothly	75
Alternate fingers for repeated notes	75
Strengthen your weak fingers	76
Finger substitution	77
Four over Five	77
Fingering is often common sense	78
Trills - incorporate the thumb when possible	79
Should you learn Czerny & Hanon exercises?	79
Getting used to another piano	80
Using rhythms to tighten things up	81
Listening	82
Develop your ear	82
Listen, listen, listen	83
Listen to orchestral music - lots of it!	84
You do not need perfect pitch	84
No, you are not tone-deaf	85

Studying	87
Why learning the piano makes you smarter	87
Do not miss a lesson	90
Solfège	90
Improvisation	91
Composition	92
Harmony	92
Counterpoint	93
Orchestration	93
Memorize your key signatures	94
Why your teacher does not want to teach you pop music	96
The magic of the circle of fifths	97
Performing	97
Play for people	97
Develop a repertoire	98
Playing the piano is difficult because...	99
Performances	100
Examinations, Recitals, Competitions & Masterclasses	102
Away from the piano	103
Look at music scores away from the piano	103
Work on your ear training	104
Listen actively to music	104
Use flash cards	105
Learn to love Bach	105
Arranging	106
Conducting	106
Tips for parents	107
Do not make it optional	107
Let teachers do their job	108
Praise, praise then praise some more	109
Feed them good music	109
Encourage a second instrument	109